Grand Trades' Concert

Consisting of Three Parts. Five Readings in Comedy, Tragedy and Pathos by

Miss Mollie E. Jackson.

Excellent Orchestra music, and other fine music. A Grand Military and Physical Culture drill, Trades' display and Chorus by one hundred and ten of San Angelo's most beautiful ladies, representing same number of businesses, professions etc., of the city, in odd unique and beautiful costumes. Pantomimes, Tableaux and stage pictures for all firms represented at Turn Verein Hall, Thursday night, May 26th. Nothing like it has ever been seen here.

What the Press Says of Miss Jackson:

"Aux Italiens" could not have been better interpreted by the author than it was by Miss Jackson at the concert complimentary to the State Press Association.—Houston Post.

The first part of the program alone was worth the price of admission and the grand drill was worth twice the admission. In fact it was three grand entertainments in one.—Greenville Herald.

The program was three grand entertainments in one and was well worth 75c.—Denison Herald.

We doubt if Miss Jackson has an equal in the south as an elocutionist. The audience would have felt well paid had the curtain gone down for the last time on the first part of the program; but the grandeur came unexpected to all.—Ardmoreite.

The entertainment was up to a high standard and showed the fine executive ability of Miss Jackson, the elocutionist, who drilled the 100 ladies.—Fort Smith (Ark.) Daily Times.

Everybody from the small boy to our leading business men are loud in their praise of the manner in which Miss Jackson prepared the lengthy and interesting program, and also the style in which it was presented from start to finish.—Denton (Texas) Monitor.
